FRONT END DEVELOPER AND TEAM LEAD

As a Front End Developer and Team Lead, I specialize in designing and leading the architecture of front-end projects using React.js for scalable, component-driven development. I utilize Material UI and TailwindCSS for creating responsive and visually appealing user interfaces, and integrate Shadcn UI for a cohesive design system. I guide teams in adopting a monorepo setup to maintain code consistency and streamline development across multiple projects. My leadership includes overseeing best practices, ensuring clean code, and aligning the project's architecture with business goals while fostering collaboration within the team.

KEY COMPETENCIES

Front-End Architecture Design: Expertise in designing scalable and maintainable front-end architectures using React.js, focusing on performance and user-centric experiences.

Monorepo Management: Proficient in implementing monorepo structures, enabling code reuse, collaboration across teams, and efficient project management.

Cross-functional Collaboration: Effective in working with product, backend, and design teams to align technical solutions with business objectives.
